FORUM WRAP UP

Be prepared to wrap up the series of Royal Lake Community Forums to be held Saturday December 19, 2015, 12:00 PM – 1:30 PM Case-Halstead Library.

1. Review the outcome of previous forums
2. Discuss the finds presented
3. Decide an action plan

Make up your mind to put your shoulder to the wheel and push. You own property or live here, protect your investment. Show your pride and dedication to make your investment grow. The resources here are: approximately 86 acres, 3.25 acre lake, and the Kaskaskia River. Many of our ancestors brought land here with the idea of resort living. This is the 21st Century. Let's get cracking.

You might ask: What can I do? Start now put some money aside, come out and stake out your land, get some family and friends to help you clear your site. You would be surprised how a little effort will go a long way. Come out in March early spring time would be best, before new growth and or buds develop.

Tools required: bow saw, gas chain saw, long handle pruner, hard rake, gloves, party favors, and elbow grease. Start with the small brush and trees. Once you get control and can see the property clearly, ideas of what you would do to build come to mind.

Thanks to those that attended the previous forums, and I'm looking forward to seeing you again.
